Japanese given tour of GC

GRANITE CITY — Visitors to Granite City from Japan were given an opportunity to examine the industrial benefits of the city on Thursday.

The visitors were representatives of Japanese auto parts manufacturers who are on a tour of the Midwest, looking for a possible site to build an auto parts plant.

They did not give an indication of whether they plan to locate in Granite City, said Mary Kane, executive director of the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois.

THE LEADERSHIP Council is cooperating with the Tri-City Regional Port District in Granite City, the Regional Commerce and Growth Association and the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce in bringing the Japanese to this area.

"It was really just a tour. There were no specific meetings," Kane said.

The 18 Japanese representatives toured the port, A.O. Smith Corp. in Granite City and Granite City Steel. They were given a slide presentation about the area at SIUE and talked with regional civic and business leaders during a luncheon at the university.

"THEY ASKED a great deal of questions," Kane said. "I think it went very well. They got a lot out of the tour."

Kane said the Japanese were particularly interested in the A.O. Smith plant, which manufactures engine cradles for new autos. The Japanese were interested in looking at Granite City because of its industrial capabilities and the port facilities.

On Oct. 31, a group of Japanese agricultural representatives toured the port. The visit may lead to a grain storage facility being built at the port, said the Port District's general manager, Bob Wydra.

A GRANITE CITY resident, formerly assistant director of the Japan-American Society here, Zumico Yamana, worked with the tour's hosts as a translator.

"Not all of them spoke English," Kane said.

She said more would be known about the results of the tour after the representatives return to Japan and study the potential of the many Midwestern communities they visited.

The Granite City area is considered a prime area for an auto parts plant.

Mobile Meals serves hot lunch with a warm smile

GRANITE CITY — A hot meal is served with a warm smile by the Mobile Meals program.

The program, sponsored by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, serves hot lunch every Monday through Friday to 150 area residents, mostly senior citizens unable to prepare a meal and who do not have anyone to fix one. An evening meal is also served to 10 residents.

RECIPIENTS OF the meals.

Sunday focus prepared at the hospital, praised the program Friday.

"I think it's just wonderful," said Anne Pare. "I can't complain."

"When you ain't able to do for yourself, you're glad you've got somebody to help you," an elderly woman said.

"I ENJOY IT very much and especially the driver who brings it to me," said Carl Puhse.

Puhse, who is on a low-sodium diet, said his meals are prepared within the guidelines of his diet. He said this is a great help to him.

"It's hard to fix stuff without salt," he said.

"I LIKE SOME of them (the meals) and some of them I don't," said Lois Dorch. "Everybody don't like the same thing."

"If it wasn't for them, I wouldn't be here," another woman said. "I have children but they don't have me."

Tony Elliott, one of two drivers who delivers the meals, said he enjoys his work, especially the people he delivers to.

"THAT'S ONE thing I really like about the job," Elliott said.

Some of the recipients, he said, sit and wait for him to arrive with their meal.

"Sometimes I'm the only person they see all day long," he said.

ELLIOTT DELIVERS meals to recipients in Granite City, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell. Another driver, Harold Chandler, delivers to east Granite City, Venice and Madison.

Meals provided here since 1970

GRANITE CITY — Since 1970, the Mobile Meals program has been providing hot meals for many Quad-City Area residents who otherwise might not receive one.

RECIPIENTS ARE referred through service agencies or family members, Asbeck said. After a home visit is made by Asbeck, arrangements are then made for meal delivery.

A typical meal would consist of an appetizer, such as a salad; an entree, such as an open-face roast beef sandwich, plus beans and mashed potatoes; dessert, such as pudding; and a carton of milk, he said.

Cost of the meal is based on the person's ability to pay, Asbeck said, with the maximum cost $2. Most of the recipients pay $1 or less, he said.

If the same meal was purchased in a restaurant, Asbeck estimated it would cost about $5.

DIETARY restrictions for the recipient are taken into consideration when meals are prepared, he said.

Meals are cooked at the hospital and delivered in two vans, donated by Disabled American Veterans Chapter 53, he said.

GRANITE CITY — Salary for the city's Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (ESDA) coordinator Police Chief Bill Harris has been approved by the City Council.

The aldermen last week approved

8-2 a salary of $5,200, or $100 a week, for Harris' ESDA duties retroactive to Oct. 1. Added to his present salary of $35,842 as police chief, his gross salary as chief and coordinator will be $41,042 a year.

VOTERS TO approve the salary were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Paul

Fisk, Casmer Skubish, Jake Varadian, Woody Moad, Brett Hanke, Jeff Worthen and Tom Hewlett. Voting "no" were Aldermen Mike Modrusic and Judy Whitaker. Aldermen Everett-Morley, Pat Schuman, Sharon Perjak and Lloyd Bailey were absent.

Lee Williams, director of ESDA Region 8, told the aldermen at their Oct. 28 meeting the federal government would reimburse the city 25 percent of Harris' gross salary if shown that Harris is spending 50 percent of his time as coordinator.

Patricia King named new board secretary

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Patricia A. King was named secretary of the Board of Education at its meeting Thursday night.

She succeeds Board Member Kirk Gardner in the one-year secretarial post. Wilbert Glasper will remain as president of the Venice school board for the next 12 months.

MRS. KING was elected to a four-year board term in November 1983. She and her husband, Richard, are the parents of four children who attend Venice public schools. Glasper commended the outgoing secretary, saying, "I want to thank Mr. Gardner, who has done a wonderful job in the past year."

Board members also authorized Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers to explore using resource instructors, provided by the Region 16 Educational Service Center at Belleville, to assist students in an Improve Reading Program.

AFTER DISCUSSING our (state) report card at the last meeting, we know that we do need to continue working toward improving the reading abilities of our students," Vickers said.

Board members agreed and asked Vickers to contact Andrea T. Williams, Ph.D., staff development and curriculum coordinator at the center, "to see what they have to offer."

Educational Service Centers were established throughout Illinois by the State Board of Education through the Education Reform Act.

PURPOSE of the centers is to combine and coordinate existing services in a manner both practical and efficient and to provide new services to local school districts.

Under the proposed program, Education Service Center personnel will assess current reading programs to see if an outside consultant is required.

A consultant's services may be paid for with Reading Improvement funds if reading objectives are involved, the superintendent said.

Porch light campaign illuminates drug problem

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A porch light campaign and rally are slated for Tuesday in observance of Mayor Von Dee Cruse's "D-Day Against Drugs" program.

All Granite City residents are being urged to turn on their porch light from 6-10 p.m. Tuesday in recognition of the program.

A D-DAY RALLY is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave. Former Baseball Cardinal and now General Manager Dal Maxvill and Fredbird, the Cardinals' mascot, will speak at the rally. Maxvill is a Granite City native. Also scheduled to appear is Willard "Butch" Portell, clerk of the Third Judicial Court, along with Cruse.

Music will be provided by selected members of the Granite City High School band, conducted by Jim Owens.

GRANITE CITY Police Detective Richard Schardan will emcee the rally.

Informational booths will be manned by representatives of the CareUnit, the Edgewood Program, Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD), Operation Snowball, Emphy, a peer leader group at Granite City High School, Piasa Health Care and the American Cancer Society.

Following the presentations, a candlelight vigil will be held. Participants in the rally will hold a lit candle while the lights in the hall are extinguished.

THE PUBLIC is invited to the rally. An appeal is also being made for members of all Granite City churches to attend.

The porch light campaign and rally are being held to focus on the problems of drug abuse and how steps are being taken to solve it.

An ad hoc committee, appointed by Cruse, has been planning the event since last month.

The committee consists of Schardan, Walter Milton, chairman of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce's crime prevention and awareness committee, Jack Haug, a guidance counselor at Granite City High School, and Jolene Terrell, a school board member. Also involved is Donna Fanning, Cruse's administrative assistant.

Holiday deadlines

Due to the Thanksgiving Day holiday, the Wednesday Journal newspaper will be distributed on Thanksgiving Day. The Thursday Press-Record will be distributed on Wednesday, Nov. 26, and the display advertising deadline will be Monday, Nov. 24.

Not over till it's over

There are three phases of election coverage: the pre-election news and comment, the actual results, and — but not least — cleaning out the election notebook.

We'll be mercifully brief, but a few items in that notebook may be of interest.

Somewhat unnoticed were two efforts to sway voters before Congressman Melvin Price gained a close victory over Robert Gaffner Nov. 4. Both events occurred after our Sunday edition had gone to press, so they could not be reported here in advance of the balloting.

U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, who once represented Granite City and environs in the state legislature, spoke that Sunday morning at Charlie's Restaurant on behalf of Price, his former House colleague.

Simon may have once thought of succeeding Price, if Price ever retired. But the retirement didn't occur. Simon moved from Troy, in Price's district, to the Carbondale area, in Cont. Kenneth Gray's southernmost Illinois district.

Risking criticism for invading foreign territory for political gain, Simon ran and won when Gray retired in 1974.

After 10 years of service in the U.S. House, Simon gambled on a bid for the U.S. Senate and won. Gray decided to come out of retirement and won his old House seat in 1984 and again in 1986.

Simon, of course, was no stranger to Southern Illinois despite moving across a district boundary. He was lieutenant governor of the whole state in 1968-72.

In his visit to Granite City less than 48 hours before the '86 election, Simon admitted his Sunday morning campaign stop was a bit unusual.

"Until recently, we didn't think Mel had much of a fight" to overcome, the senator said.

Simon said Price's age, 81, should not be a big issue. "One of the biggest members of Congress (in effectiveness) is Claude Pepper. He is five years older than Mel. Claude goes and goes. I challenge any one of you to keep up with him."

The Price retirement, long awaited by ambitious young Democrats in Madison and St. Clair counties, finally will occur at the end of 1988, 44 years after he was first elected while a World War II Army corporal. He announced Oct. 31 this fall's campaign would be his last.

Also noteworthy was Gaffner's

Columnists' Club

By Bill Winter

final push for votes during the pre-election weekend.

I asked Gaffner the day before he and Vice President George Bush arrived on Air Force Two where he was going to meet up with Bush.

Washington, perhaps? Not actually, Gaffner said. He was going to board the big plane at Lambert Field, St. Louis, for the "long" flight to Scott Air Force Base, Belleville.

Presidents and vice presidents traditionally emerge from the plane simultaneously with whoever they are endorsing, proving to voters that their local candidate is an insider, a close associate. They arrive smiling and waving to the airport crowd, which doesn't always know just how long a flight the two have just taken together.

But Gaffner's campaign was not all gimmicks. He campaigned tirelessly, and he surprised nearly everybody by almost gaining an upset victory.

Was Gov. Jim Thompson's unprecedented fourth-term win mainly due to his opponent's difficulty in running on the Illinois Solidarity Party while backing part of the Democratic ticket?

No way, Republican Thompson said. "When you carry (Democratic) Madison and St. Clair counties, it wasn't because people were confused."

A final point. Adlai Stevenson trailed badly in the pre-election polls. Was his defeat inevitable? Not necessarily, Simon said in Granite City.

"According to the Chicago Tribune poll, Gov. Thompson is going to win. Two years ago, according to the Chicago Tribune, Charles Percy was going to win; I won't ahead in a single poll — except for the poll on election day. I think we're better off ignoring the polls."

In other words, don't ignore the sage advice of Yogi Berra: "It's never over till it's over."

Life must go on for those who grieve

BOB THOMAS, founder of Walk-On, a group for the bereaved, is the owner of the Thomas, Mercer and Lahey-Sedlack mortuaries and funeral homes.

Cathy Nevlin, a psychiatric social worker at Community Counseling Services.

She is the connection between the funeral director and those people who need to reinvest in life and realize that there is life after death. "My responsibility is to help people understand that they are experts on themselves, that everyone grieves differently," says Nevlin.

The other part of our program involves social and speaking events, sponsored each month, on a variety of subjects for people who need to learn how to handle the everyday necessities of life.

This often includes such basic things as how to open a checking account, home repair, Medicare assistance and many more.

Elizabeth Neely, coordinator of Walk-On and a representative of Thomas Mortuaries Ltd., said, "People who lose a loved one often face two basic problems in adjusting to their new life: the first is grief and the second is learning to deal with everyday life. We are here to help them do that."

Thomas Mortuaries Ltd. has recently gone a step farther with the philosophy reaching out to others in the community — through a variety of educational programs, events to improve the quality of life of nursing home residents and other programs to give something back to the community.

One such program is the "Organ Donor Education" drive we are now sponsoring to tell the public how important it is to leave a part of oneself behind — giving the "gift of life."

Thomas Mortuaries Ltd. believes in giving to the community and assisting those who need a helping hand.

Programs such as Walk-On have been developed because of caring and concern for the bereaved. It's a belief in the fact that the survivors of death are also important.

They need to be able to realize the importance of their life after the death of a loved one.

A 72-year-old woman is widowed. Her husband has taken care of all the family finances, which are invested in numerous savings institutions, stocks and bonds. Who can help her sort out this financial maze?

A 55-year-old woman's husband, a retiree, dies after a long illness that depleted their savings. Social Security benefits are inadequate and the prospect of re-entering the job market after 38 years is intimidating. What should she do?

A 16-year-old girl commits suicide. Her parents and siblings are overwhelmed by grief, shock and anger. Who can really understand their loss, and help them to pick up the pieces?

Prior to 1975 there would have been no answers or assistance for these survivors of death because the funeral director previously addressed only the needs of the dead.

Yet, today, in many funeral homes across the country, the funeral directors — either through the experience of loss themselves, or through assisting those who have lost a loved one and the problems they encounter — have developed programs which address the needs of those left behind: the survivors.

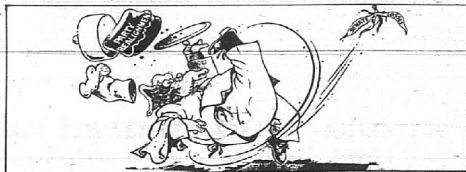

Many of these are women. There are over 10 million widows in the U.S. today.

Seventy-five percent of all married women will experience widowhood in their lifetime and the majority will not remarry. For that reason, programs have been developed to assist the widowed in coming to terms with their grief and to adjust to their new life.

For the same reasons, Thomas Mortuaries Ltd. developed Walk-On (Widows and widowers learning knowledge of necessities), a non-profit program to provide aid and comfort to the bereaved.

One part of the program is a Bereavement Self-Help Group, which allows people to share their grief and receive understanding and support from others, facilitated by

Former coach praises Fighting Warriors effort

To the editor: I'm sure I speak for thousands of Granite City football fans, in that I'm just becoming aware of the scope of the achievements of this great bunch of young men on our 1986 football team.

The group of young men for 11 games was outmanned in size and outmanned in speed, but was never outmanned in heart. Nor were they ever outcoached.

Let's look at their accomplishments. Not once on their schedule did they have a breather; every game was a crisis situation. They downed (1) Cahokia, (2) Normandy, (3) Collinsville, (4) Belleville West, (5) East St. Louis, (6) Alton, (7) Belleville East and (8) Quincy. Our three losses were to Althoff (10-0 record), Griffin (10-0) and East Side (9-1), all potential state title teams.

The first sign of greatness was the stunning upset of East St. Louis — the nation's No. 1 team — which naturally brought Granite City national recognition, not only to the football squad but our community as well.

After that great victory, the Warriors were under pressure in every game to claim the Southwestern Conference crown solely — and that coveted award became a reality with the scrappy, fighting Warriors defeating a good Belleville East team for the title. Belleville East was a team which allowed East St. Louis only seven points.

This courageous team, claiming the Southwestern Conference championship, still kept improving and brought Granite City greater honors by taking us into the State Championship playoffs.

Drawing Quincy was exciting, as they were a very strong, big, fast team. They definitely tested the mettle of the Granite City Warriors by taking an early lead and making the Warriors battle back to a 28-21 victory.

Now, suddenly, we realize that this group of average size, average speed kids had fought its way to the Elite Eight — the top eight teams in the large school division in the state tournament. What an unbelievable achievement.

The following Saturday, literally thousands of people started filling Memorial Stadium at 11 a.m. for a 1 p.m. game between the great East Side Flyers and the Cinderella squad from Granite City.

The loss of Kevin Price, the all-American tackle, proved a great motivational boost to the already awesome Flyers squad and they avenged their former defeat by a 20-0 score.

We want the team to know that the only regrets we have are that our exciting, exhilarating pleasure of watching this fine team play is over.

They provided us with school and community pride, thrills from week to week and a sense of belonging again in the prestigious world of football.

Not enough can be said about our fine staff of Ron Yates, Bob Stegemeyer, Ray Logan.

These men took a very average group of kids and molded them into the great Hogan team into fine, well-balanced offensive and defensive units. They made this group of boys the greatest bunch of over-achievers this area has seen for many years.

They taught this squad more than just blocking and tackling by keeping high ideals and great sportsmanship.

They have truly earned their team name "The Fighting Warriors" and we hope all young football enthusiasts will be using this squad as their idols.

Warriors, we salute you!

Computers will make our jobs easier

By Jack C. Ventimiglia

Executive editor After 12 days at "computer school" in Chicago, I know we can expect good things from the computer system that will be installed at the Press-Record/Journal to replace our aging Compugraphic MDTs.

Our new Dakota computers have keyboards similar to typewriters or to the MDT on which I'm typing, but the Dakotas have some additional keys that are useful in bringing out their special abilities.

An MDT 350 has been compared to a glorified typewriter attached to a television screen. The computer terminal is actually a lot better than a typewriter because you can see and correct mistakes with ease before what has been typed is printed on paper. The Dakota terminals of Systems Integrators Inc. (that are sitting here in boxes waiting to be installed in the next few weeks) expand upon what our MDTs did.

One value of the Dakotas, at least for me, was immediately evident. The MDT upon which I'm working has a dark blue screen overprinted with blue letters. After awhile, my eyes became fatigued. The Dakotas, with a green screen, caused no such problems though I worked on them while in Chicago more hours per day than I would have here in Granite City.

Another value of the Dakota is a larger screen that tilts. The MDT has a small, fixed screen — reporters start rubbing their stiffening necks and rolling their heads after about an hour.

Scientists have developed a new treatment for the bone-thinning disease osteoporosis that has shown promise in a preliminary study, The Boston Globe reported today.

Eight men and 10 women with severe osteoporosis in their spines completed a two-year study at the Massachusetts General Hospital in which they injected themselves daily with parathyroid hormone and took oral doses of vitamin D.

Parathyroid hormone regulates the body's use of calcium while vitamin D increases the amount of calcium absorbed from the diet.

The men in the study started with an average bone density of 30.

AROUND SHE GOES and where she stops only the editor knows. This is one of the shapes possible on the Dakota. Though from a news perspective it has only curiosity value, it is indicative of the kind of capability the new computers have.

(Graphic by Jack C. Ventimiglia)

"Split screen" is one of the Dakota features that will get plenty of use at the copy desk. While working on one story, an editor may suddenly find a reporter tugging at his leg with an urgent need to have a story reviewed at deadline. Rather than kicking the reporter, or having to go through the process of replacing one story and then searching for the reporter's article, that miracle of computer science, the Dakota, will allow the editor to keep what he's doing on one screen while he presses a button to "switch screens" to begin editing the reporter's story. When he completes the editing, the copy editor presses a button and the other

Media Mandarin

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive Editor

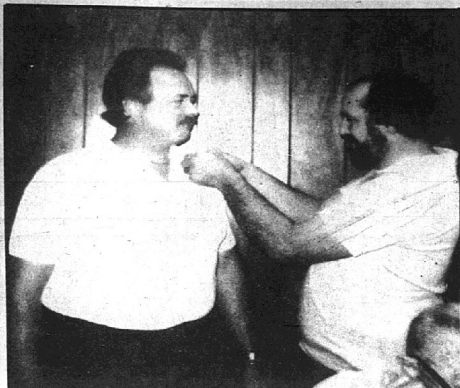

story will be there exactly as he left it.

A real time-saver function of the Dakota is the ability to wrap news around pictures without having to do the work with a knife. Look, no hands! Stories can be set at a slant, they can be made to form circles and they can be made to take on other peculiar shapes.

The Dakota includes a copy desk chief's dream: An entire Webster's unabridged dictionary is contained in the computer's memory. When in doubt about the spelling of a word, rather than thumbing through a conventional book, the chief can press a couple of buttons and have the spelling.

There are, of course, many other functions that the Dakota can perform, such as putting boxes around stories automatically rather than by hand, but the most significant point for the reader is that the editorial staff should be able to do a better job bringing home the news.

The flashy new computers with all their capabilities will help us present better looking, easier to read newspapers. That's important to us because we believe you expect quality and we're constantly seeking to improve upon the gains we've made.

Discount on bus monthly passes

New discounted, green, red and gold monthly bus passes went on sale Nov. 15 at all pass outlets throughout the St. Louis metropolitan area. It was announced by R. Raleigh D'Adamo, executive director to the Bi-State Development Agency.

"Each pass is tailored to specific customer needs," D'Adamo said. "And all three passes are priced to offer a minimum 10 percent discount for the person who travels back and forth to work each weekday. And the more trips a person makes during the month, the cheaper each ride becomes."

The passes will be good for an unlimited number of rides by the user during a specified calendar month. The passes will be valid for the month of December, beginning Dec. 1.

The green pass will cost $18 and will be valid for rides on all Illinois local routes. Adult fare on Illinois local routes is 50 cents. On Missouri's local routes and all express routes, adult fares are 75 cents and $1, respectively. The green pass may be used on Missouri local or express routes simply by paying the difference in price (either 25 cents or 50 cents).

The red pass will cost $27 and will be valid for rides on all Missouri and Illinois local routes. These passes may be used on express routes by paying the 25 cents difference.

The gold pass will cost $36 and will be valid for rides on all local and express service in the system. Bi-State's current $10 Weekly Pass and $9 10-ride Commuter Ticket will continue to be sold. Passes eliminate zone and transfer charges, but are not valid on special services such as Racetrack and Big Red Express.

For information regarding the nearest pass outlet, Quad-Citians may phone Bi-State Transit Information at 875-4144.

Beginning Dec. 1, passengers in Illinois will telephone Bi-State at 1-800-223-BUS.

Costume prizes and magic for children

The Granite City Park District sponsored a Creepy Capers costume contest on Oct. 30 at Coolidge Junior High School. The event was for children in grades kindergarten through third.

The youngsters enjoyed a magic show, cartoons and treats. The following were the winners in costume judging for the various age groups:

3rd grade, scariest, Wade Brady; prettiest, Mandy Schermer; and most original, Christina Baker.

2nd grade, scariest, Joshua Plant; prettiest, Crystal Painter; and most original, Shannon Gibson.

1st grade, scariest, Keith Kopke; prettiest, Megan Solomon; and most original, Katie Schermer.

Kindergarten, scariest, Dane Brown; prettiest, Natalie Zimmerman; and most original, Craig Harris.

The grand prize winners were: scariest, Wade Brady; prettiest, Megan Solomon; and most original, Christina Baker.

Open house at Madison schools and board office

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — American Education Week, celebrated during the week of Nov. 17-21, will be observed in Madison Community Unit District 12 schools Tuesday from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m.

To help parents keep abreast of all school activities and programs, they are being invited to visit not only the school their child attends but also the Board of Education meeting that will begin the same night at 7:30.

Billie Bosworth, board president, said, "We hope that more parents will visit the meeting. That is one reason we changed the date from Thursday to Tuesday."

"Schools and Community: United for Excellence" is the theme of the week. Student work will be displayed and teachers will be available to meet with parents at each building.

Each school will dismiss classes early in order to conduct the open house programs.

Blair, Harris and Louis Baer will dismiss at 2 p.m., the Middle School at 1:40 p.m. and Madison High School at 1:20 p.m.

The special week is utilized to inform the public regarding the schools, gain the confidence of the community in the work being done in schools, show the community how it benefits from schools, and strengthen public support for the schools, the superintendent said.

Problems caused by store closing

GRANITE CITY — An out-of-business furniture store is causing problems for some of its customers.

Dennis Orsey, regional director of the Granite City office of Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan, said Wednesday 10 people had contacted his office concerning Factory Furniture Mart, formerly located at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue.

The man running the business, Kenneth Wyatt, apparently did not inform customers with outstanding accounts that he was going to close, Orsey said. Since then, Wyatt has filed for bankruptcy, he said.

Orsey said the 10 who have contacted his office either want back the money they have been paying for furniture in lay-away, or want to pay the balance and get the furniture.

A total of $2,568.42 has been paid to the furniture store from the 10 people, Orsey said.

Other persons in the same situation should contact Orsey's office at 1314 Niedringhaus Ave. to file a consumer complaint form, he said. It is important to know how much money was paid to the business and the type of relief being sought, he said.

The next step, Orsey said, is to contact the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Illinois,

P.O. Box 309, East St. Louis, 62201, to request a proof of claim form from the court clerk. The case number, 86-31053, must appear on the claim, he said.

Club celebrates Thanksgiving

The Five Star Club of Central Bank opened its meeting with the pledge of allegiance and the Lord's prayer. The 135 members present shared in a Thanksgiving dinner.

Enryles Alford, club coordinator, introduced special guests Sylvia Pashea, Barry Loman, Bill Evans and Linda Nafel. The latter explained details of the "Feed Back" program recently put into effect. She encouraged everyone to participate.

The Madison Senior Citizens Band entertained the group with several favorite selections. George and Dorothy Vasiloff were featured as a duet, and Julia Maynard added a touch of Hawaii with a hula dance.

The group sang "Happy Anniversary" to Frank and Mildred Shifter in honor of their 57 years together.

Members celebrating birthdays were Albert Perotka, Bernadine

Wagner, Leona Bell, Edgar Paddock, Bernadine Weidner, Margaret

Boyd, Delores Hillis, Eva Barry,

John Papp, Edna McKay and Elenora Weber. Alford presented each of them a Five Star Club zippered bag.

Special prizes were awarded to

Jewell Lemm, Margaret Boyd, Carrie Hart, Elsie Dunkman, Leona

Cease and Louise Thompson.

Alford announced there were tickets available for the Kenny

Rogers show Nov. 15 and the St.

Louis Symphony holiday pops con-

Barton trial now set for Dec. 8

The trial of James Barton, Granite City, on charges filed in 1984 has been delayed three weeks from Nov. 17 to Dec. 8 by Associate Judge Charles Romani Jr. Barton formerly was Madison County supervisor of assessments.

Illegal reductions in real estate assessments are alleged. Romani ruled against a request by Special Prosecutor Bruce Locher to combine the trials of Barton and Merle Bassett. Also still awaiting trial is Robert Quinn.

Saying several witnesses are not available until December, Locher sought a January trial date but Romani disagreed.

Venice coffers get boost

By Valerie Evenden

VENICE — Fines levied by the Third Judicial Circuit Court and returned to the City of Venice topped all previous receipts from this source, Police Chief Farris Smith reported at Tuesday's City Council meeting.

A $8,124 check from the office of Circuit Court Clerk Willard Portell, representing fines collected in Venice arrest cases, was the largest amount ever received by the city to date.

CHIEF SMITH said the previous record amount was last April's fine money when a total of $6,944 was returned to the city.

Venice police officers filed a total of 166 state and city traffic charges and 41 state law and city ordinance violations in October.

Officers also made five felony arrests and served five warrants. Nine people were arrested for other departments during the month.

ADULT ARRESTS totaled 173 men and 52 women, booked on 249 charges, the police chief reported. Seven juveniles were arrested last month on 15 charges, including seven city ordinance violations, one state statute violation that was referred to the juvenile court, and three state traffic charges.

Four young people arrested on felony charges also were referred to the juvenile court, Smith said.

BRIDGE MANAGER Tom Fields said traffic crossing the city-owned McKinley Bridge in Venice also increased slightly over the number of vehicles using the bridge in October 1985.

A total of 560,185 vehicles crossed the Mississippi River span last month. The daily average was 17,505, which represented an average increase of 432 vehicles per day compared to October 1985.

THIRD WARD Alderman John Ervin and 1st Ward Alderman Phil Daniels complained of debris littering alleyways.

"I've got some (debris) in my yard that I didn't put there," Mayor Tyrone Echols said. "If it starts piling up on empty lots we will have to move it."

"I noticed in back of Lee Wright Homes there were about 50 bags full of garbage, like somebody is putting them there. This could bring rats down there and I want this stopped," the mayor said.

ERVIN AGREED. "There is no doubt about it. It was dumped there," he said.

"I want those dumpers caught and fined," Echols said. "And, we'll be keeping watch," he added.

"You'd better send a truck down to the Lee Wright Homes to pick up that mess," he said to Street Supt. Tom Scaturro.

Mr. and Mrs. Cicio announce daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Bev) Cicio, 1245 Oriole St., Venice, are announcing the birth of a daughter on Oct. 20. The infant has been named Samantha Lynn and she weighs 6 pounds, 14 ounces. She has a 10-year-old brother, Jerry, and a sister, Leslie, who is eight.

Rich McKinney

Former resident is choral director at Hawaii Pacific

A former Granite Cityan, Rich McKinney, has organized a new choral group with the help of Teresa Kerr at Hawaii Pacific College.

The group, to be known as HPC Soundwave, will sing alone and with the instrumental band (by the same name) that has played at school athletic games.

The organizers said they hope the group will provide a community spirit, encourage recruitment and enhance public relations. This is the first year that the college has had a choral group.

McKinney, who serves as director, received his undergraduate degree in music from Simpson College in Iowa and his master's degree with a concentration in music composition from Northeast Missouri State University.

His background includes guest conducting at several schools on the mainland along with composing for three different music publishers.

The former local resident is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McKinney, 2812 Fortune Drive.

At St. Elizabeth Medical Center, we think a baby's world is a special one,
both before birth and after.

And to demonstrate our commitment to provide comfort, convenience and the highest standards of medical technology, St. Elizabeth Medical Center is opening its doors to the public on Sunday, Nov. 23, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. for an Obstetrics Open House, which will showcase the services available to both expecting parents and their families.

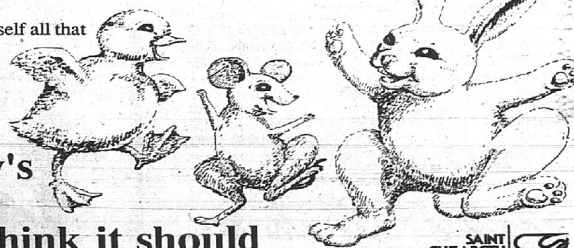

Besides a variety of tours, informational booths and numerous give-away items, Dillard's Department Stores and Motherhood, of St. Clair Square in Fairview Heights, will provide a glimpse of this year's stylish fashions for the mother-to-be, modeled by medical center tour guides.

Attendance drawings will also take place throughout the afternoon, with chances to win a talking Teddy Ruxpin toy bear, a baby's layette set, and an infant car seat.

But why not plan to see for yourself all that St. Elizabeth Medical Center has to offer.

It's your baby's first look at the world, and we think it should be just as special as the one he or she left behind.

WOMAN STRUCK AND ROBBED

WHILE WALKING TO BANK
Karen Bravley of Granite City left Earl's Sporting Goods, 18th Street and Cleveland Blvd., on foot Nov. 12 with a sack containing a bag and an unknown amount of money, headed for First Granite City National Bank, 20th Street and Edison Avenue. While she was walking near Niedringhaus and Edison avenues at 1:45 p.m., she was hit in the back, fell to the sidewalk, and lost consciousness. When she awoke, the sack was gone.

Bravley, who suffered an abrasion to the side of her head, was taken to St. Elizabeth's Medical Center for treatment.

CITY TRUCK IN MISHAP

Gordon V. Falloni of 1645 Primrose Ave. was uninjured when a city-owned truck he was driving collided with a parked car at 2817 Iowa St., owned by Charles Farmley of 2000 Lincoln Ave., at 9:26 a.m. Nov. 12.

WOMAN INJURED IN THREE-VEHICLE MISHAP

Mary E. Grafton, 35, of 2236 Iowa St. was taken to St. Elizabeth's Medical Center following a three-car auto mishap at 7:10 a.m. Nov. 12.

Her auto was struck in the rear by a car driven by James W. Carter Jr., 25, of 440 Lincoln Ave., Venice. The impact of the collision caused Grafton's auto to strike the rear of a truck driven by Anthony J. Wilson, 28, of Lincoln Ave.

Carter was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and driving without a valid license.

LICENSE, PHOTOS, $2 GONE

C.W. Hammond, 1816 Spruce St., said Nov. 8 a burglar entered his medical car at 901 Niedringhaus Ave. and took a brown envelope from the glove box containing his driving license, assorted photographs and a $2 bill.

1982 BUICK REGAL STOLEN

Morris D. Martin of 2827 Marshall Ave. told police Nov. 8 that his 1982 Buick Regal coupe with Illinois license BLV-269 was stolen from his home.

CARPET CLEANER TAKEN

A $1,500 steam carpet cleaner was taken from a rack at Central Hardware, 1 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Nov. 11.

THREE BURGLARY CHARGES

FILED AGAINST 30-YEAR-OLD MAN
Gary W. Adams, 24, of 2710 Myrtle Ave. was charged Nov. 12 by Granite City police with three counts of burglary.

Adams allegedly entered a storehouse in a garage building on Sept. 3 at the Granite City Street Department, 2201 Adams St., and took painting equipment and tools.

He also allegedly entered the street department office on Sept. 29 and took two video cassette recorders, two walkie-talkie radios and an undetermined amount of change from a soda machine.

Police also allege Adams took four jackets and hats Oct. 6 from O'Brien Tire & Battery Service, 3924 Nameoki Road.

In the past, Adams was employed by both the street department and O'Brien Tire, police related.

PUSHED OUT AND INJURED

Dawn Ealston of 2501 Kirkpatrick Homes was injured at 2:30 a.m. Nov. 8 when she was pushed out of a car in which she was a passenger and the right rear tire ran over one of her feet. The auto then left the scene.

MAN CAPTURED HERE WITH HELP OF COUNTY CANINE

Michael D. Poore, 18, of Collinsville was charged by Pontoon Beach authorities with aggravated assault and battery and was served a Sangamon County warrant for aggravated assault following an incident Nov. 12.

Poore was stopped by a Pontoon Beach officer on Illinois 111 south of Illinois 162, police said. When it was learned Poore was wanted, he allegedly struck the officer and fled on foot, pointing a gun at the officer.

The Madison County Sheriff's Department canine unit was called and apprehended Poore.

Poore was taken to the Madison County jail in Edwardsville. Bond was set at $30,000.

DRIVERS INJURED IN CRASH

Raymond C. Sampson Jr., 41, of 2825 Warren Ave., and Mary M. Sloss, 27, of 2817 Fortune Drive, were injured when their autos collided at 7:15 a.m. Nov. 8. Sampson, southbound on Nameoki Road near Victory Drive, was charged with improper lane usage.

Five will get valor medals

Four police officers and a civilian will receive the Crusade Against Crime's Medal of Valor Nov. 18 from Clarence M. Kelley, former director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in ceremonies at the Marriott Pavilion Hotel.

The 18th annual Medal of Valor program, co-sponsored by the Crusade and the Advertising Club of Greater St. Louis, will also host previous winners of the medal, including Quad-Citians, and will recognize the efforts of all law enforcement officers in the metropolitan area.

Tickets for the noon luncheon, $15 per person, or reservations for tables of 10 are available to the public at the Ad Club, 1-314-231-4185, or the Crusade, 1-314-533-3002.

Winners of the 1986 Medal of Valor are Detective Ward Griggs and Police Officers Steve Alsop and Jack W. Cowser of the St. Louis Metropolitan Police. Officer Lori Mahn of the Florissant Police and St. Louis resident James Neisz.

Griggs, of the bomb and arson unit, and Alsop, of the third district, saved the life of an elderly South St. Louis resident Dec. 18 in a fire; Cowser, of the 5th district, helped 17 North St. Louis residents survive a fire April 30.

Mahn saved the lives of four people July 18 in a fire and Neisz, a resident of the Baden area, saved a St. Louis police officer from injury and possibly death May 11 in a struggle with a prowler.

Kelley, who lives in Kansas City, Mo., served as director of the FBI from 1973 to 1978. He joined government service as a special FBI agent in 1940, served in the U.S. Navy from 1944 to 1946 and was chief of police in Kansas City from 1961 to 1973.

The Medal of Valor represents the highest award the metropolitan area can bestow on the men and women who protect property and lives through conscientious law enforcement.

Since its inception in 1969, the medal has been presented to 124 police officers and citizens. Det. Raymond Reynolds of St. Louis has received the medal twice, in 1969 and 1984.

Recipients are selected each year from nominations submitted to a select committee by the more than 140 police chiefs in the bi-state area.

GC MAN FACES 2 CHARGES

Fred Oliver, 59, of 2015 Washington Ave. was charged Nov. 11 with disorderly conduct and public consumption of alcohol after police alleged finding Oliver lying on the sidewalk at 18th Street and Delmar Avenue with an open bottle of wine next to him.

CAR IS CUT, SCRATCHED

Laura Compton, 86, Cambridge Court, said Nov. 11 someone cut the vinyl and scratched the hood and trunk of her car while it was parked in the 3600 block of Hodges Avenue.

WOMAN SUFFERS BEATING

John W. Gresham, 33, of 1327 Rhodes St. was booked for battery Nov. 12. He allegedly struck and knocked down his wife, Laura, and then struck her several more times.

MAN INJURED IN MISHAP

Ronald C. Legate, 38, of 2880a Iowa St. was injured at 4:26 p.m. Nov. 11 when his auto and a car driven by Kristina Springer, 19, of 35 Mikel Drive, collided at 6 Nameoki Village.

TV, VCR TAKEN FROM CAR

Don Bush, 3024 Village Lane, said Nov. 12 a burglar took a television and a video cassette recorder from his car, parked at 3655 Nameoki Road.

YOUR STARS

By Stella Wilder

The coming week unfolds much like any other, though those with a keen eye for opportunity may find a potential gold mine where to the unobservant or uninterested, there seems to be nothing whatsoever out of the ordinary. Adventurers and risk-takers see many opportunities arise toward mid-week, and those who take chances that are not too foolish or quixotic should indeed profit by week's end. This is not a good week for those unwilling to explore the possibilities.

The close-knit family finds many reasons this week to celebrate its strength through intimacy. Those families who have seen hardship and strife in the past can indeed make great strides toward forgiving - and ultimately, forgetting. Children have much to offer elders this week.

SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 7 - Seek to provide others with answers this week. However, you must face more questions of your own. Nov. 8-Nov. 21 - Time spent with family members proves beneficial to you in more ways than you may know. Count your blessings.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 7 - You are afforded a quick look into the future early this week. If you don't like what you see, change it! Dec. 8-Dec. 21 - The choices are many this week - but only one pays off as handsomely as you would wish.

CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 6 - Keep in mind your goals, objectives throughout the week. Don't let promise of quick gain distract you. Jan. 7-Jan. 19 - You find the going surprisingly easy where you found trouble only last week.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20-Feb. 3 - You gain more through insight this week than through familiarity with facts and figures. Trust your instinct. Feb. 4-Feb. 18 - You have numerous opportunities this week to shine in the face of adversity. Be prepared.

PISCES Feb. 19-March 5 - A good week to put ideas into motion. Do not hesitate to enlist the aid of a friend or family member. March 6-March 20 - Do not let momentum sag after midweek.

Activities toward week's end may indeed make all the difference.

ARIES March 21-April 4 - Make no move this week before considering all the possible consequences. Haste makes more than waste this week! April 5-April 19 - Affairs at home and at the work place go hand-in-hand this week. Family members support your decisions.

TAURUS April 20-May 5 - A secret kept under wraps early in the week may become public knowledge by week's end. The result may surprise you. May 6-May 20 - Financial affairs are favored this week - though you would be wise to consult "experts" toward mid-week.

GEMINI May 21-June 6 - What you try to avoid early in the week proves unavoidable as the week progresses. Face all issues head on. June 7-June 20 - Do not expect to progress on your own this week. Teamwork is key. Share responsibilities with those you trust.

CANCER June 21-July 7 - Influences at first feared this week prove beneficial as the week comes to a close. Setback is avoided. July 8-July 22 - You have an opportunity to undo a wrong, make a friend of an enemy, overcome a setback this week.

LEO July 23-Aug. 7 - Avoid copycat approach to present problem. Originality, initiative prove the keys to progress. Aug. 8-Aug. 22 - Tact, diplomacy are advised early in the week. Later, however, a direct, even blunt approach gets things done.

Chester Heidbrink
Heidbrink

Chester Lewis Heidbrink, 66, of 4933 Willow Lane, died in the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 2:33 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 13, 1986.

Born in St. Louis, he lived in Granite City for 29 years. He was employed as a machinist for Granite City Steel for eight years.

Mr. Heidbrink was a member of City Temple Assembly of God Church and the National Rifle Association. He served with the U.S. Army during World War II.

He and his wife, the former Marion J. Layton, who survives, were married on July 25, 1942, in St. Louis.

Survivors include two sons, Chester, of Belvidere, Ill., and Stephen Heidbrink of Fort Riley, Kan.; two daughters, Mrs. John (Rita Ann) Agnew, Springfield, Ill., and Mrs. Lynn (Beth Ann) Jones, Granite City; two brothers, Charles Heidbrink, Overland, Mo., and Ervin Heidbrink, Florissant, Mo., and 12 grandchildren.

Visitation continues from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, and from 9 a.m. until time of services at 11:30 a.m. Monday at City Temple Assembly of God, 4751 Maryville Road, with the Rev. Jim Burnette officiating. Burial will be at the National Cemetery, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Lance

Dina M. Lance, 20, of Barberis Lane, Collinsville, formerly of Granite City, was fatally injured in an accident at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 12, 1986, on Belt Line Road 220 feet east of Johnson Hill Road, according to Collinsville police.

She was pronounced dead at the scene at 8:03 p.m. by Rich Annoti, Madison County deputy coroner. According to the police, her pickup truck was westbound on Belt Line Road traveling at high speed when it crossed the center line and collided with an eastbound car driven by Michelle Bopp, 20, of Collinsville.

The truck then struck several trees along the south side of the road, and the rear of the truck came to a halt on top of a guardrail.

Police dispatched to the scene called for an ambulance and a department rescue unit. Ambulance attendants said she died in the crash, receiving head injuries and lower abdominal injuries. Firemen used rescue equipment to remove her from the vehicle.

Witnesses said the truck swerved to miss two cars before crossing the center line.

Born in East St. Louis, the victim lived in Granite City until moving to her present address in Collinsville. She was employed as a waitress at the International House of Pancakes in Granite City.

Survivors include two children, Amy Brooks, four years old, and Dustin Brooks, two years old; her parents, Edward L. Lance and Joyce Suhling, both of Granite City; two brothers, Joe and Eddie Lance; a sister, Kristy Lance, grandparents, Mildred Grande and Jim Lance, and a great-grandmother, Ida Holder, all of Granite City.

The Rev. Dale Edwards officiated at 10 a.m. services Saturday at Pieper Funeral Home, 1925 Cleveland Blvd., with burial at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Lang

Mrs. Rose Edna (Blacklock) Lang, 73, of Colonial Haven Nursing Home, 3900 Stearns Ave., died at 2:54 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14, 1986, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was a patient one day. She resided at the nursing home the past three years.

Born Feb. 12, 1913, in Murphysboro, Mrs. Lang lived in Granite City for 52 years. Her husband, William Lang, died Sept. 22, 1986.

Mrs. Lang was employed 27 years in the offices at the former Tri-City Grocery Co. warehouse prior to retiring. She was a member of the Tri-City Grocery 25-year Club and the Royal Neighbors of America.

She was of the Methodist faith.

Among the survivors are a niece, Mrs. Eddie (Phyllis) Ticer of Cahokia; and a nephew, Wallace Blacklock of Murphysboro.

Friends may call at 10 a.m. Monday at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., where services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Monday. Burial will be at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Edwardsville. The family requests memorials to Hospice of Madison County or the American Heart Association.

Troeckler

Mrs. Magdalene (Zellerman) Troeckler, 82, a lifelong resident of this area, died at 2:30 a.m. Friday, Nov. 14, 1986, at St. Joseph Home in Springfield, Ill., where she resided the past seven years.

She was born in the Village of Nameoki and resided in both Mitchell and Madison for many years. While living here, Mrs. Troeckler was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison. She and her husband, Joseph, were married Oct. 11, 1921, at the former St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Mitchell.

Mr. Troeckler, who died March 30, 1967, was a former elected supervisor of Chouteau Township. Survivors include three daughters, Sister Mary Raymunda of Springfield, Mrs. Edward (Bernadette) Zabotka of Madison and Mrs. Joseph (Kathryn) Kuhnline of Puerto Rico; one son, Frank J. Troeckler of Edwardsville; 10 grandchildren; four great-grandchildren and several nephews and nieces.

Three brothers preceded her in death. Visitation begins at 2 p.m. Sunday at Pieper Funeral Home, 1925 Cleveland Blvd., where wake services will be held from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, 10th Street and Alton Avenue, Madison. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Howard Vallow, 60, of Madison, died at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14, 1986, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was ill five years and in the hospital two weeks.

Born in O'Fallon, Mr. Vallow resided 43 years in Madison and previously lived in Shiloh, Ill. He retired in 1969 from the former Granite City Army Installation, where he was employed 30 years as a mechanic. He also worked five years at St. John Cemetery in Granite City.

Mr. Vallow was a member of St. John United Church of Christ and the St. John Brotherhood, National Association of Retired Federal Employees and the Senior Citizens Bowling League.

He and his wife, the former Mayme E. Sapp, were married Oct. 12, 1930, at St. Jacob. Mrs. Vallow survives.

Beside his wife, also surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Faye Kirgan of Granite City and Mrs. Nancy Martin of St. Peters, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Robert (Margaret) Conboy of St. Louis and Mrs. Oscar (Agnes) Aumby of Shiloh; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Visitation starts at 3 p.m. Sunday at Lahey-Sedlak Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave., Madison, and from 10 a.m. Monday at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, until time of services at 1 p.m. Monday. The Rev. Alan Reiter will officiate. Burial will be at St. John Cemetery. Memorials are requested to St. John United Church of Christ.

Walck.

Edward Anthony Walck, 65, of Ontario, Calif., formerly of Granite City, died at 12:18 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 13, 1986, in the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center here.

A native Hazlet, Pa., Mr. Walck lived in this area for many years and moved to California two years ago. He retired in 1964 from Granite City Steel as a foreman after 32 years' service.

Mr. Walck was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, a foreman of the Club and Chinese Senior Citizen Club.

He and his wife, the former Elvera Sudholt, who survives, were married at St. Joseph Catholic Church in 1948.

Other survivors include three daughters, Miss Margaret Ann Walck of St. Mary's, Calif.; Mrs. Veizer, both of Ontario, Calif.; and Mrs. Mike (Lynn) Byrd of Edwardsville; one brother, Joseph Walck, of Vallejo, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Joseph (Mary) Tully of Beaver Meadows, Pa.; and four grandchildren.

Visitation will begin at 6 p.m. today (Sunday) with wake service at 7 p.m. Sunday at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, Granite City. The Rev. Henry Schmidt will read a 9:30 a.m. Mass on Monday at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Johnson and Pontoon Roads, with burial at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville. Masses are named as memorials.

Walter

Joe Walter, 71, of 1117 Bissell St., Venice, died at 11:10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 7, 1986, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Born March 31, 1915, in Mississippi, Mr. Walter resided here for many years. Prior to retirement, he was employed 18 years by the Kerr-McGee Corp.

Mr. Walter was a member of New Salem Baptist Church of Venice. Among the survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Fannie King of Washington Park; two sisters, Mrs. Willie Rea Webb and Mrs. Dora Hops, both of Columbus, Miss.; eight grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted by the Rev. John Henry Williams at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 12 at New Salem Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St. Burial was Nov. 14 at Sunset Gardens of Memory Cemetery, Millstadt. Friends called at Officer Funeral Home, 2114 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis.

Valeria Gass, 3024 Sunbury Ave., died at 12:35 a.m. Nov. 12, 1986, at her home. Father Donald Meehling read a 10 a.m. Mass Saturday at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, with burial in Valley View Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Language researcher to give talk Nov. 18

Toby D. Griffen, SIUE professor of foreign languages and literature, will speak at the fall research scholar colloquium Nov. 18, free and open to the public, in the Mississippi Room of the University Center at 2:30 p.m.

The presentation will focus on Griffen's research conducted on "Standard Swabian Orthography." Swabian is a distinct language spoken in the southwestern region of the Federal Republic of Germany, and yet it has no standard writing system. Griffen said this poses problems for Swabian speakers and for non-Swabian persons reading Swabian in another German orthography.

In conducting his study, Griffen did much of his field work in West Germany. He also compiled a directory of Swabian dialect literature. An active researcher, Prof. Griffen was the recipient of the university Research Scholar Award in 1985 and in 1979. He has also received several SIUE - Fourth Quarter Research Fellowships and Assigned Research Time Awards.

Meals

'Curb service' given to those in need

However, delivering is not always enough, he said. Sometimes he's asked to mail or change a light bulb, he said. He also takes time to have a short chat with the recipient before making the next delivery.

MEALS are also served on holidays falling within the work week, with "something extra" served to the recipients.

In the eight years he has been delivering the meals, Elliott said, there was only one incident where a person took advantage of the program. A woman was receiving hot lunches free while she was working a night job, he said.

One delivery Elliott said he will never forget was about three years ago when he found a man on his route who had committed suicide. "That was an experience all in its own," he said.

Towns honor Vadalabene

State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, has been honored by the Township Officials of Illinois for "taking the lead" in Illinois township legislation.

Saying the recognition plaque was presented to the senator Nov. 10 at the organization's annual convention in Springfield.

Drawing theme was instrumental in gaining passage of township annexation legislation this year. The law, opposed previously by the Illinois Municipal League, permits a referendum to be held prior to the annexation of township property by a city.

"Such action has continually eaten away at the tax base of township governments," a TOI spokesman said.

Am very honored by this award," Vadalabene said. "Local governments need the support of state government."

Sharing the loss of federal revenue township government, the senator added, "This year, under the leadership of Senate President Phil Rock (D-Oak Park), we appointed a Township Task Force which held several meetings throughout the state. We hope to be able to develop legislation to help township governments, based on the testimony heard at these meetings."

Instant game has $1 million prize

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois State Lottery outlets have begun selling a new "instant game" featuring a $1 million jackpot.

The "Cash Flow" game, the 37th edition of the lottery's instant draw-off tickets, will have a million dollar prize just two weeks after the finalists are identified.

Tickets with the word "entry" appearing three times in the play area will qualify for the drawing and the chance to win $10,000, $15,000, $25,000 or $1 million in cash.

The new entry qualifications method is being implemented to allow a more timely millionaire drawing for our players," said Lottery Director Rebecca Paul.

Instant prizes include five of $100,000. Odds of winning a prize in the game are about 1 in 3.9; odds of winning an entry in the $1 million drawing are about 1 in 300.

County to pay for man's burial

Madison County will pay for the embalming and burial of an unidentified man found in the Mississippi River near the McKinley Bridge in Venice Township on May 17.

Dallas Burke, county coroner, said such expenses are ultimately the responsibility of the county although, in most cases, township relief funds are used.

Most of the townships along the river have buried bodies found in the river from time to time, he said. In this case, Venice Township was short of money, he said.

The Madison County Board's Finance Committee voted to authorize payment of the expenses, $800 to Mercer Mortuary in Granite City and $200 to Valley View Cemetery in Edwardsville.

Burke said it is clear in the law that counties have the responsibility for providing a proper burial for unclaimed bodies.

Efforts to identify the man were unsuccessful, Burke said.

Tamburitans

Dancing their way to Granite City High

The Tamburitans will mark their 50th year in 1987 and will perform in 27 foreign countries during a 10-week world tour. The performers are full-time Duquesne students on scholarship in exchange for concert participation. The university is in Pittsburgh.

The 12-member troupe, under the direction of Nicholas Jondroff, appears in more than 500 authentic costumes. The group takes its name from the musical instrument "tamburita."

The concert is brought to this community by the Granite City Campus of Eastern Illinois College in conjunction with a citizens advisory committee.

Ticket costs are $5 for adults and $2.50 for those 12 years old and younger. Concert proceeds go to the BAC Foundation for scholarships for Granite City Campus students.

For more information about tickets, Dan Naglich can be called at the Croatian home, 876-9368.

ESDA

Coordinator gets $100 weekly salary

This means the government will reimburse $100,000 of Harris' gross salary of $14,042, with the city paying $30,782. The latter figure is $5,000 less than the city is currently paying for Harris' salary as chief.

TWENTY-FIVE percent of Harris' hospitalization insurance will also be paid. The government pays for 25 percent of the gross salaries of police chiefs who also serve as ESDA coordinators in other communities, such as East Alton, Bethalto and Edwardsville.

"I think we've got a bargain," said Mayor Von Dee Cress. "Being practical about it, the chief of police should be the director of civil defense."

"I THINK it's a great savings to the city," said 3rd Ward Alderman Paul Flak.

"I think Bill Harris is doing a tremendous job as chief of police," Flak said. "I think he'll do good at this (coordinator) position."

The aldermen had been debating Harris' salary since Cress appointed him coordinator Sept. 16.

HARRIS SAID Wednesday he was glad the salary issue was settled.

Since taking over the ESDA post, Harris has completed a project, started under former coordinator

Dick Ervay, of converting the city's warning sirens from telephone controlled to radio-operated.

An additional telephone line has also been added at the ESDA office, located in the basement of the police station, Harris added.

HARRIS HAS attended a conference in Dallas and is currently participating in a home-study course dealing with his ESDA duties, he said.

He will attend training sessions in Springfield, Ill., and plans to attend the Central United States Earthquake Consortium on Nov. 18-19, he said.

During a major disaster, like a tornado, earthquake or flood, Harris would assume full responsibility as ESDA coordinator until the emergency is over, he said.

ASSISTANT Police Chief Lt. Col. Robert Astorian would take charge of police functions during the disaster.

Harris must also obtain copies of emergency contingency plans for all city businesses using dangerous chemicals, he said.

Though not required to do so, Harris and Fire Chief Joe Holder have recently inspected several businesses using dangerous chemicals.

Harris will also be working on a revision of the city's disaster preparedness plan, he said.

YOU HAVE SUCH A FACE! — Margaret Dawdy (left) of Collinsville praises her "daughter," Melissa Anne Stason of Scott Air Force Base during rehearsal of "Isn't It Romantic?" at Belleville Area College. BAC will present the play at 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Nov. 21, 22 and 23, in the Belleville Campus theater.

'Isn't It Romantic?' plays at BAC

The theater stage will become the battleground for conflict between personal independence and romantic fulfillment when Belleville Area College presents "Isn't It Romantic?"

The contemporary comedy, written by Wendy Wasserstein, examines the dilemma of many modern women — attempting to have both meaningful relationships and a productive career.

"Most theaters produce plays which have been proven safe and effective," said Friedman. "It delights me to bring a new show to area audiences, which have not seen many first-time-ever theatrical events in the past."

BAC faculty member Alan Friedman of Belleville will direct the comedy, to be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 21, 22 and 23, at the Belleville Campus theater, 2500 Carlyle Road. Ticket prices are $2 for the public and $1 for students.

Russian dancers visit Quad-Cities

Two members of the Moiseyev Dance Company from the U.S.S.R. visited local residents during the week-long run of appearances last month at the Fox Theater.

Rudy Khodzhoian, who appeared in St. Louis with the dance company 12 years ago, and Valeri Inozentsev were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Petrosian.

The two celebrities were given a tour of the Quad-City Area by Petrosian and Steve Bucherich, making stops in several retail stores and at Tony's Restaurant, 1504 Madison Ave., for lunch.

The visitors from Russia were served spaghetti with meat sauce and large bowls of chili by the restaurant's owner and operator, John Svezia of Venice.

Svezia said the two obviously enjoyed the food and showed little concern about how much they ate, despite a performance of the dance company just several hours later that day.

Petrosian had befriended Khodzhoian when the dance company appeared at the Muny Opera 12 years ago, its last tour in this country.

Eating disorders workshop planned

"Eating Disorders" will be the topic of a free workshop Thursday, Nov. 20, at SIUE. Sponsored by the Student Program Board, the workshop is scheduled in the Cahokia/Kaskaskia Room of the University Center.

Nancy Ellis-Ordway, coordinator of the anorexia/bulimia treatment and education center at St. John's Mercy Medical Center, will discuss anorexia and bulimia. For further information, the Program Board can be called at 692-2017.

Trio Unit holds craft day

The Trio Unit of Madison County Homemakers Extension held the annual Craft Day on Nov. 10 at Hope Lutheran Church. Twenty members and one guest, Clara Trovich, were present. Also in attendance was Mrs. Pat Lambert, who does custom monogramming designs and tailoring at Pat's Alterations Made in O'Fallon, Ill. She demonstrated a Singer machine for seams.

Helen Roessner and Chairman Mary Wilson led the group in making Christmas wall hangings.

Arts-Crafts Fair scheduled Nov. 28

The 6th annual Arts and Crafts Fair organized and presented by Mrs. Kay Weber of Belleville will have a third day added this year. The show will be opening on Friday, Nov. 28, for a sneak preview from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., with the admission price of $2.

Nov. 29 and 30 will remain as in the past — no admission. Mrs. Weber said the Saturday and Sunday hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the Belle Clair Exposition Building.

New crafts will include house shoes, dusters and hand mitts, all made from sheepskin; eucalyptus wreaths and baskets; gifts from the Aura Herb Farm; original design and painted metal wreaths; photography of the St. Louis Arch; and 6-foot-tall rug pictures. Several exhibitors will be from the Quad City Area.

Members enjoyed a sack lunch with salad and dessert served by Min Lee, Genevieve McComis and Vivian Forshee. Trio Unit will host the district meeting at the church on Nov. 17 at 7 p.m.

Legion, Auxiliary will aid in child abuse program

The Post 113 American Legion and Auxiliary have ordered a comic book entitled "The Secret of Animal Island" to distribute to school children in an effort to combat child abuse.

Children-Youth Chairmen Harold Chandler and Barbara Weathers said, "We must give our children the kind of information they need to recognize potential danger so they can protect themselves when we cannot be with them."

The books will be distributed to all elementary schools in this area, they said.

The auxiliary has contributed $125 to the American Legion Child Welfare Foundation and for this year has chosen three major areas of concern to work with — teenage suicide prevention, missing children, and drug abuse prevention.

you can BANK on it!

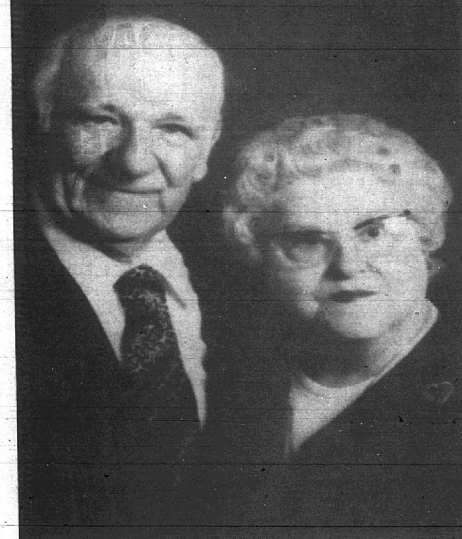

DREW KARANDJEFF

Q. The sign on bank doors which says that accounts are insured by the FDIC has always intrigued me. Could you explain what this insurance covers?

A. First the FDIC — the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation — is a corporation which was federally established for the purpose of protecting bank depositors against the event of an economic emergency within the banking institution. FDIC insured accounts include virtually all accounts maintained within an FDIC insured bank. This would, of course, include savings and checking accounts, but it also extends to bank certificates of deposit, money market certificates offered by banks, and individual Retirement and Keogh accounts. FDIC insurance does not extend to the contents of an individual's safe deposit box, however, inasmuch as the bank has no record of its contents. The limit to which bank accounts are covered by the FDIC is $100,000 on each account. This insurance, which is applicable only to banks, is one of the most attractive features of obtaining an IRA, Keogh Account or Money Market Certificate through your bank.

Speech students finalists in tournament

Four Granite City High School speech team students were semifinalists, and two finalists, at the Parkway Central speech tournament.

Tracey Hamilton placed fourth out of 66 prose readers. Marta Alt placed fifth out of 45 original orators. Jim Evans and Anissa Fields placed second out of 26 duet acting teams.

The team is coached by Ron Pennell, head of the GCIS speech department.

Hamilton read "Cipher in the Snow," a story about a rejected high school student who dies with no friends.

Alt's oration affirmed the importance of positive thinking in our lives.

Evans and Fields performed a moving cutting from The Elephant Man.

Hosting a bazaar? take precautions

Many groups have found that pre-holiday bazaars and bake sales are a good way to make money for worthy activities. These sales often take months of planning by dedicated volunteers. Food safety is an issue that some chaperones take for granted.

White state law dictates that home-prepared food shall not be offered for public sale, officials usually don't enforce the rules against chaperones and organizations that sponsor once-a-year events. But if an activity becomes a monthly or weekly event, or health officials have complaints, the rules will be enforced.

Some home-made foods just don't belong in bazaars or bake sales. Home-canned vegetables and meats require extensive processing, and homemakers may not be using current processing recommendations.

Jams, jellies, sweet preserves and pickles are a safer bet, but chaperones should still be sure that these items come from cooks who know what they're doing. Food poisoning is a real threat if home-canned foods are not processed in exactly the right way.

Food-poisoning is also a threat with certain kinds of baked goods. Custard, pumpkin and meringue pies should not be sold unless they will be eaten on the spot, and you have facilities to refrigerate them up until the moment they're bought.

The same goes for custard-filled items. You can't control how they'll be handled later, but you could be sued. Cakes, cookies, breads and non-perishable pies are much less risky.

Home-made mince meat is another item to avoid. People love it, and they'll probably miss it, but the risk is just too great. While you want your fund-raiser to be a success, you don't want to risk selling mince meat that might be underprocessed.

Each food item should be labeled with the name and address of the person who made it. Ninety-nine percent of the time, there won't be any problem. But if problems do develop, public health personnel need to be able to track down the cause to avoid more illnesses.

Consumers also appreciate ingreredient labels on home-made foods. Ingredient labels are very helpful for people who have allergies. And they help assure consumers that only the finest, most wholesome ingredients went into the product.

It goes without saying that foods should be adequately covered or protected from dust contamination. Volunteers should use plastic gloves, long clean tissue paper when handling food.

Food and money should be handled by different people. Those who sell the food should wash their hands often, using prepackaged towelettes if there's no sink available.

It's unfortunate, but most bazaars take place during the height of the cold and flu season. Again, organizers have a solemn obligation to keep their sale items as germ-free as possible.

People who are sick should not be baking or handling foods intended for public sale. Chaperones need to recognize this fact, even if it means doing without several of their best workers. If sick people insist on working, the sale should ask them to wear polka-dots or tickets—anything but food.

Those honored were Kelley's wife, Theresa, Nov. 12, his daughter, Christine, Nov. 8, and his niece, Lynette (Kelley) Adler, Nov. 1.

Mrs. Adler was an out-of-town guest, visiting her mother, Diana Morlan, and other relatives. She and her husband, John Adler, are at Hunter Army Airfield Branch, Savannah, Ga., where he is stationed.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Barbara) McDowell and daughters, Stephanie, Nicole and Carrie, and Mrs. Richard Amie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Lucy) Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford (Maxine) Dupin, Mr. and Mrs. Tom (Shelly) Hickman, Michelle Sugg, Missy Shane and Shelia Hagopian.

Members of the First Baptist Church of Mitchell, Pay Lynn, Carol Harmon, Mauron Burriss and Virginia Harnetiaux, motored to the Baptist Church camp, Lake Sautee, near Pinckneyville and spent the night in the camp cabins.

There they attended the Octoberfest and craft celebration.

Also, sessions were presented by three missionary families. One couple had spent time in Liberia, one in Spain, and Mr. and Mrs. Clay (Nancy) Addison had just returned from Hong Kong and will be turning home in February.

Mrs. Addison is a former Granite City resident. The missionaries talked of their experiences in the mission field in foreign lands, and then held a discussion hour.

The Kirkpatrick family were married Nov. 10, 1941, in Hillsboro, Ill. Mrs. Kirkpatrick will be remembered as Miss Vera Barnes of Madison.

The two attendants at their wedding were his cousin, Virgil Brooks, and her cousin, Marie Benson.

Marie Benson was present for the celebration. Virgil Brooks was killed in World War II, in 1942, shortly after the wedding.

The couple has two children, a son, Jerome Kirkpatrick, of Granite City, and a daughter, Mrs. Ziad (Peggy) Abdul-Hadi, Damascus, Syria. There are 10 grandchildren.

Kirkpatrick's three nieces (sisters of each other) and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Faye) Varday, Boynton Beach, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Norma) Puelo and son, Frank, St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald (Janie) Staats, Collinsville.

Also here were grandsons, John and Robert Kirkpatrick, who are attending SIU at Carbondale.

Zane Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Duniphan of Mitchell were among the local guests.

There was a decorated wedding cake on the table near two throne chairs where the honorees were seated.

A sandwich buffet with punch and coffee was served by Mrs. Kirkpatrick's Sunday school class.

Get ready for roundball

It's one of those times in the sports year again when things kind of slow down.

Football, soccer, volleyball, cross country, golf and tennis keep us busy from the beginning of school until about now. Basketball, wrestling and hockey will keep us going from Thanksgiving until St. Patrick's Day. Baseball, softball, track, girls soccer and tennis will fill up the spring months. And baseball and swimming keep things hot in the summer.

But there's always a couple of weeks to rest in November, March and August. Well, not really to rest, but to get ready for the next season. The state finals in volleyball were held this weekend in Springfield, and there will be only four teams left in each of the six classes in football.

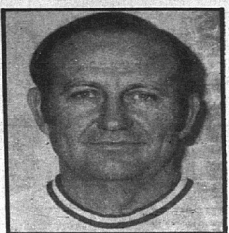

So it's time to think about the winter sports season, and basketball in particular. It remains to be seen if Granite City can keep up the dominance it has held in the Southwestern Conference in the last year.

After re-entering only two years ago, the Warriors have come on strong, and they just completed a nice triple play. Although soccer and wrestling have always been big in Granite City, let's refer to football, basketball and baseball as the "major" sports for now, because that's what they are in most towns. Or maybe we should call them the "Hogan" sports, because those omnipresent twins have starred in all three sports the past two years.

In that case, the Warriors have now either won or shared the conference crown in the major sports three times in a row—that is, they tied for the title in basketball and baseball last year and won the football title this year.

They shoot for four in a row starting Thanksgiving weekend when Don Deterding's eagles travel to Mt. Vernon for the Turkey Classic, opening the 1986-87 year. And the Warriors have a chance to do it. Their co-champions last year, Alton, lost a bushel basket of talent in just two bodies, Larry Smith and Bobby Collins, who both graduated.

That has to hurt the Redbirds, but if they're down a little, other teams should be better. East St. Louis, which had a very young team last year, should improve, as will the Belleville schools. And Collinsville always gives the Warriors a tough time. The two teams had four rock 'em, sock 'em games last year—with Granite City winning all of them.

Don Deterding

Rich Essington

Clinton Harris

Deterding will be looking primarily to fill the starting spots left vacant by Joe Gray and Chris Veizer. Chris' brother David and Eric Ryterski are prime candidates there. And you can still see

By Dave Whaley

Tim Hogan firing away from outside, Jamie Hogan fighting for rebounds against guys three and four inches taller, and Tom Taylor getting open underneath for lay-ups.

Gray's absence might slow the offense down from its rapid-fire pace of last year, but the Warriors should be all right.

The balance of power among the Tri-Cities' two Class A schools shifted a bit last year, and it should stay that way for at least another year. Rich Essington, the former coach at Venice who took the Red Devils to the top in 1975, re-emerged at Madison with a team that lost four major contributors from last year. He replaces Rodney Watson, now an assistant at Nebraska-Omaha.

Anthony Valentine, Darnell Marshall, Reggie Young and Eric Jacks are all gone from a team that didn't make it out of the regional for the first time in 11 years. The main guys back for the Trojans appear to be Lamont Johnson and Gary Stanley.

Essington will have to mold the rest into a solid unit if they want to compete with a possible powerhouse just to the south. After an electrifying 25-6 season that landed them just short of the state finals in Champaign, the Venice Red Devils will be back for more.

The tough loss to Teutopolis in the Super-Sectional has not been forgotten.

Clinton Harris returns a bunch of talent, including junior Dale Turner, who could be a good floor leader at guard. Also back are Vincent Harris, Wilfred Wigfall, Willie Hollis, Johnnie Marchbanks and Orlando Love.

Am I forgetting somebody? Oh yes, they also have a player named Jesse Hall, and to say he should be the best player in this area would be an understatement. The electrifying senior will emerge as one of the top players in the state if he can have a senior year to compare with his junior year.

Teutopolis' win in the Super-Sectional was almost forgotten in (See HOOPS, page 8B)

Relief pitcher

PAT PERRY of the Baseball Cardinals was the featured speaker at the Granite City Park District's annual Sports Award Banquet Thursday night at the Granite City Township Hall. Perry came on in relief of Ken Dayley, who was scheduled to appear. Dayley's wife had a baby this week. George Sykes, park board president, listens to Perry.

Madison FCA sponsoring charity game

The Madison Senior High Fellowship of Christian Athletes, along with the Madison Middle School Huddle of FCA, is sponsoring the fourth annual Charity Benefit Basketball Game for needy families in Madison.

The benefit will be held Friday, Nov. 21, at the Madison High School gym from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. Last year, more than 575 cans were collected and 52 food baskets were given out.

The admission for the game will be $1 for students and $2 for adults. The FCA is asking that donations be brought in the form of canned goods (two cans for students and four for adults). They will be distributed to needy families throughout the community.

Rich Essington and his basketball team have agreed to put on a demonstration basketball game, pitting the juniors against the seniors. The preliminary game will feature the middle school seventh graders against the eighth graders for one half, and the middle school faculty against the FCA team for a half.

Mark Giles and Charles Steptoe are sponsors for the Madison Senior High huddle. Albert Collins is the sponsor for the middle school huddle.

Unit 12 administrators, principals and the district social worker will select the names of the needy families. Anyone having a particular family in mind can contact Arthur Carter, the high school principal, at 876-7010 before 4 p.m. Nov. 21.

There will be two turkeys given away at half time of the second game as a door prize.

Joyner honored at MS dinner

Jackie Joyner, one of the world's premier female athletes, has been selected as the No. 1 sports figure for 1986 by the St. Louis Sports Media.

Joyner, a native of East St. Louis, will be honored at the 35th Annual Multiple Sclerosis Sports Celebrity Dinner sponsored by the General American Life Insurance Company and Budweiser, on Thursday, Nov. 20, at the Adam's Mark Hotel in downtown St. Louis. The program begins with a sports auction at 5:30 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m.

Bob Costas of NBC-TV and KMOX Radio will return for the eighth year as master of ceremonies.

Remembering The Face

Sports of All Sorts

By Al Barnes

The player was Greg (Face) Makowski, an All-American three of the four years he played for Bob Guelker's St. Louis Cougars, who was the first and probably the best of the many All-Americans Guelker produced at St. Louis U. recruited Makowski fresh out of St. Louis' Rosary High.

Makowski was a swashbuckling player who was both a defensive and offensive ace, and who played with an almost total disregard for his physical well-being. He was a regular on the Cougars from 1974-77.

"I'll never forget how I started getting reports on how good Makowski was midway through his junior year in high school from McBride. The fun-loving McBride, whose only aim in recruiting was Rick Benben, knew his talent.

In the fall of 1974, the Cougars opened their season by taking a trip to Colorado to play the Air Force Academy. With me on that trip was Bud Buddell, the long-time trainer of the Cougars and now in private practice in Alton, and Dr. Emerson Carpenter, the team physician.

On the flight into Denver, as I beat the devil out of McBride in gin rummy, all he could talk about was what a player that Makowski was going to be. But in the first game, he was kept on the bench by Guelker. It was a tightly-contested game.

Our second game was what we thought would be an easy one. It was against little Colorado College, which is mostly noted for its hockey team. But as the first half ended with the host school one goal in front, it began to look like the easy victory wasn't going to turn out that way.

Shortly after the second half started, young Makowski was inserted into the lineup, and I quickly became one of the Face's biggest and loudest boosters.

A defender, Makowski held back almost until the game was over. Then, in nearly successive possessions for the Cougars, he scored three straight goals. All three times he stole the ball at midfield and drove solo down the field.

McBride was vindicated, and I never doubted his judgement on a new player. So when Mac had to let the Face go recently, it must have been tough on each man. Unfortunately, I haven't had a chance to check with McBride about Makowski.

But the Face was a great student and had prepared himself and his wife for life without soccer by earning a masters in business administration.

Good luck, Face and Teresa.
